

Child Safety Reporting Obligations Policy (Mandatory Reporting and Procedures)

AIMS:

The purpose of this policy is to define the roles and responsibilities of school staff in protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people. This includes enabling staff to identify the indicators of a child or young person who may be in need of protection and enable staff to make a report of a child or young person who may in need of protection.

GUIDELINES:

Mandatory reporters, who believe on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is in need of protection from physical injury or sexual abuse, must report their concerns to Department of Human Services (DHS) Child Protection.

All other school staff who believe on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is in need of protection are encouraged to report their concerns to DHS Child Protection or Victoria Police. Therapeutic treatment providers are encouraged to report their concerns to DHS Child Protection.

If staff have significant concerns for the wellbeing of a child or young person they are encouraged to report their concerns to DHS Child Protection or Child FIRST.

In cases where staff have concerns about a child or young person, they should discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

Duty of care

School staff have a duty of care to protect the safety, health and wellbeing of children in their care. If a staff member has concerns about the safety, health and wellbeing of children in their care it is important to take immediate action.

In the case of a child who may be in need of protection or therapeutic treatment, or where there are significant concerns about the wellbeing of a child, school staff can discharge this duty of care by taking action, which includes the following:

- Reporting their concerns to the DHS Child Protection or another appropriate agency (as identified above).

Types of child abuse and indicators of harm

Child abuse can have a significant effect on a child's physical or emotional health, development and wellbeing. The younger a child the more vulnerable he/she is and the more serious the consequences are likely to be.

Types of child abuse include:

- | | |
|---|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Physical abuse Sexual abuse Emotional abuse | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Neglect Medical neglect Family violence |
|---|---|

Other reports to DHS Child Protection may be needed for:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Risk-taking behaviour Female genital mutilation Unborn child | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Child or young person exhibiting sexually-abusive behaviour |
|--|---|

There are many indicators of child abuse and neglect. The presence of a single indicator, or even several indicators, does not prove that abuse or neglect has occurred. However, the repeated occurrence of an indicator, or the occurrence of several indicators together, should alert teachers to the possibility of child abuse and neglect.

Note: For full definitions for all of the types of child abuse and a comprehensive list of the indicators of harm, see: Appendix 2 in Protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people within Department resources found at

IMPLEMENTATION:

Below describes the process involved in making a mandatory report:

Step 1: School staff should keep comprehensive notes that are dated and include the following information:

- Description of the concerns (e.g. physical injuries, student behaviour).
- Source of those concerns (e.g. observation, report from child or another person).
- Actions taken as a result of the concerns (e.g. consultation with principal, report to DHS Child Protection, etc.)

Step 2: School staff should discuss any concerns about the safety and wellbeing of students with the principal, assistant principal or a member of the school leadership team. The individual staff member should then make their own assessment about whether they must or may make a report about the child or young person.

Step 3: School staff should gather the relevant information necessary to make the report. This should include the following information:

- Full name, date of birth, and residential address of the child or young person.
- Details of the concerns and the reasons for those concerns.
- The individual staff member's involvement with the child and young person
- Details of any other agencies who may be involved with the child or young person.

Step 4: Make a report to the relevant agency.

Step 5: Make a written record of the report which includes the following information:

- The date and time of the report and a summary of what was reported.
- The name and position of the person who made the report and the person who received the report.

Step 6: Notify relevant school staff and/or Departmental staff of the report.

- School staff should advise the principal or a member of the leadership team if they have made a report.
- In the case of international students, the principal must notify the International Education Division of the Department on (03) 9637 2990 to ensure appropriate support is arranged for the student.
- In the case of Koorie students, the principal must notify the Regional Office to ensure that the regional Koorie support officer can arrange appropriate support for the student.

Step 7: Notify the Victoria Police if there is concern that a criminal offence may have been committed.

The potential consequences of making a report are;

Confidentiality

The identity of a reporter must remain confidential unless:

- The reporter chooses to inform the child, young person or parent of the report.
- The reporter consents in writing to their identity being disclosed.
- A Court or Tribunal decides that it necessary for the identity of the reporter to be disclosed to ensure the safety and wellbeing of the child.
- A Court or Tribunal decides that, in the interests of justice, the reporter is required to provide evidence.

Professional Protection

If a report is made in good faith:

- It does not constitute unprofessional conduct or a breach of professional ethics on the part of the reporter.
- The reporter cannot be held legally liable in respect of the report.

Interviews

DHS Child Protection and/or Victoria Police may conduct interviews of children and young people at the school without the parent's knowledge or consent. Interviewing children and young people at school should only occur in exceptional circumstances and if it is in the best interests of the child to proceed in this manner.

DHS Child Protection and/or Victoria Police will notify the principal or a member of the leadership team of their intention to interview the child or young person on the school premises. When DHS Child Protection practitioners/Victoria Police officers come to the school premises, the principal or a member of the leadership team should request to see identification before permitting them to have access to the child or young person. When a child or young person is being interviewed by DHS Child Protection and/or Victoria Police, school staff must arrange to have a supportive adult present with the child or young person.

For more information on these requests and school responsibilities, see: Police and DHS Interviews, found at <http://www.education.vic.gov.au/school/principals/spag/safety/Pages/interviews.aspx> (current as at September 2013).

Support for the child or young person

The roles and responsibilities of staff members in supporting children who are involved with DHS Child Protection may include the following:

- Acting as a support person for the child or young person.
- Attending DHS Child Protection case planning meetings.
- Observing and monitoring the child's behaviour.
- Liaising with professionals.

Requests for Information

DHS Child Protection and/or Child FIRST and/or Victoria Police may request information about the child or family for the purpose of investigating a report and assessing the risk to the child or young person.

In certain circumstances, DHS Child Protection can also direct school staff and Department staff to provide information or documents about the protection or development of the child. Such directions should be in writing and only be made by authorised persons within DHS Child Protection, see: Requests for Information about Students, found at <http://www.education.vic.gov.au/school/principals/spag/safety/Pages/requestinfo.aspx> (current as at April 2014).

Witness Summons

If DHS Child Protection makes a Protection Application in the Children's Court of Victoria, any party to the application may issue a Witness Summons to produce documents and/or to give evidence in the proceedings, see: Subpoenas and Witness Summonses, found at <http://www.education.vic.gov.au/school/principals/spag/governance/Pages/subpoenas.aspx> (current as at January 2014).
